SEPTEMBER 2022

Vol. 46 No. 9

PASTOR'S PARAGRAPH

I love a good story. Stories make the world go round. And ever since the dawn of time, humans have told stories. Stories to make us laugh. Stories to make us cry. Stories to make us a little scared. Stories to make us feel something. Stories to teach us a lesson. There is never a bad time to tell a story.

Throughout history, the way we tell stories has evolved. Stories began as oral tales passed down from generation to generation. We have had cave drawings. Eventually we figured out how to write and stories were written down. We were able to have those tales that our ancestors told and have them forever.

Then eventually these stories were put on the airwaves on the radio. Stories became movies. Stories became television shows. We still held onto the past by telling stories around camp fires and writing them down. But now stories can be told in so many different mediums. But the reasons for those stories being told has never changed. We still have stories to make us laugh, cry, scared, and teach us lessons.

Stories are a part of us. And it came as no surprise to anyone that the savior of the world taught best through stories. He would gather the people and teach them through stories called parables. These parables were meant for the people to understand Jesus' message even better. They could understand what he was saying.

So this month, in honor of great storytelling, we are going to spend some time looking at some of Jesus' different parables. Parables such as the lost sheep & coin, the good Samaritan, the seed & the Sower, and the unmerciful servant.

Each of these stories teaches us something different. But as we look at these stories, I want you to ponder the question, what is Jesus trying to teach me through this story?

It's going to be an exciting month. And as we go through this month, I want you to think about your own story. I want you to think about what God has been doing in your life. For your story is the most important story out there. It is the story of how God is moving in you. That is the best story in the entire world, and I can't wait to hear it!

Grace and Peace,

David

Well, if life isn't crazy enough in my household we have added a puppy, Josie! She is full of energy and it is a lot like having another grandchild, but we can't send her home with her parents! She hasn't been too excited about my piano playing. She will usually leave the room when I start to practice. Maybe I just haven't found the right song for her!

Choir rehearsals got off to a wonderful start! We will begin working on our Christmas Cantata this month! It doesn't seem possible! Please join us on Wednesday nights if you would like to join in on the fun!

Happy Fall!

Laura

Our playground is finally coming together! The fence looks great and will keep our children safe! The rubber mulch will be ordered this week! When the mulch arrives we will need some help in spreading it! An email will be sent out to let you know a date and time! The other main thing left is the electrical work in the picnic shelter! Lights and electrical outlets will be installed. It is an exciting time! When everything is completed we will have a dedication service in memory of Karen Sineath....after all, it is Granny's Playground!

September brings cooler evenings, football games and school activities.

Days are shorter and nights are longer. Take time to refresh your time with God. Missions start with each of us in our hearts. Prayer time is time spent with God. Thank him for the many blessings that are received each day. Thank him for His guidance and love. Ask for courage and direction to do His will. Missions start with each of us. Let it grow in you.

Please pray for the flood victims and helpers/workers in Kentucky. There are so many needs big and small. Look for opportunities where you can make a difference.

Pray, work and love.
